Regular contributors who can submit posts to the organization

People who are in charge of reviewing posts submitted by writers

They will be reviewed, edited and get approved by editors before publishing.

Posts published in an organization:

- Will be shown in both the author and the organization's news feed.
- Besides being credited to the author, the associating organization is also credited as the post appears in any feed and in the post view.
- Users' activities on posts (interactions, views, etc) are tracked with customizable Google Analytics tracking.
- Besides authors, editors and the owner of the organization can also edit the post.
